BOROUGH OFFICIALS DECIDE TO MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

New Owners of Old Building Ask $150 per Month Rental

PRICE CONSIDERED TOO HIGH

Charleroi borough officials as well as the fire department may be in new quarters shortly after the first of March, if a committee appointed by Council at a special meeting Tuesday evening can find a suitable location. The new owners of the boro building and the borough dads could not agree on the rental, hence the decision to seek new quarters.

A social meeting of council was called for Tuesday evening, at which time the question of making arrangements for a continued occupancy of the old quarters was taken up. The new owners, the Knights of Malta, asked a rental of $150.00 per month, which council believed was more than the borough was able to pay, and a committee composed of President Swickey and Messrs. Moody and Van Voorhis was appointed to locate new quarters with a view of moving out on the first of March.

Louis Goaziou presented a petition signed by a number of citizens asking for the opening of an alley between Oakland avenue and the borough line on the west. The borough engineer was directed to make the location, and an ordinance was ordered prepared for the opening and accepting of such an alley. The original plan of this part of Charleroi provided for such an alley and was so recorded. However, it was never presented to, or accepted by the borough, and as property in that section has been bought and sold there may be a little difficulty in getting an amicable adjustment of the matter.

The question of having the Bell and Charleroi Telephone companies connect their wires with police signal boxes in the borough was taken up and discussed. It developed during the discussion that the Bell Company was not favorable to connecting its wires at the same point with the Charleroi Company, preferring to erect and connect its own boxes, for which it would charge the borough a rental. The signal boxes are already on hand and the Bell officials are said to have made the objections that their phones could not be connected with the pattern purchased, because of the difference in size of telephones. After further discussion it was decided to erect the boxes already purchased, and to connect them with the Charleroi Telephone company. One of these boxes will be erected at the corner of McKean avenue and Fifth street. Mr. Van Voorhis was appointed as a committee to have the box installed.

After directing that the insurance on the police station be renewed council adjourned.

Thomas Daly who is in training at Camp Hancock is spending a ten day furlough in Charleroi.

DONORA ZINC WORKS HAS BIG SERVICE FLAG

A service flag containing 65 stars was on Monday raised at the Donora Zinc Works plant. A patriotic program was carried out. Several prominent Donora business men were among the speakers. This is the first flag of the kind the plant has possessed and serves as a fitting memorial to the men in the service of the United States.

4TH DISTRICT MEN CALLED

Will Meet in Charleroi Next Monday at 5 P. M. at Elks Club

TO ENTRAIN TUESDAY MORNING

The final work of selecting the men to fill up the quota of the last draft at Camp Sherman, from Local Board No. 4, Ellsworth, Pa. has been completed. It was first announced through the adjutant General's office that there were 134 men needed but this order has been changed and on next Tuesday, February 26, the necessary men will entrain at Charleroi, Pa. The men have been called into service on Feb. 25, (Monday evening) and they will meet for roll call at the Elks Club, Charleroi at 5 o'clock. It has been arranged that after the roll call all who desire to go to their homes for the night will be granted permission. The exact time for entrainment on Tuesday morning has not been announced but the boys will be told that on Monday evening. Following is the list of those called:

Junior Red Cross Movement Is a Pronounced Success

Great progress is being made in enrolling the pupils of the Charleroi public schools in the Junior Red Cross movement, which only began Tuesday morning, and which will likely be completed this week. From reports received by Superintendent Pollock this morning the following summaries were announced:

From the Second street building, 100 per cent enrollment was reported Tuesday evening, with practically all subscriptions paid.

Fifth Street building, with an enrollment of 400 pupils, there were 320 enrolled and the subscriptions being paid in a most encouraging manner.

Ninth Street school, 250 were reported from the whole building at 9 o'clock this morning, which is a splendid report when the fact is considered that there are but 181 families represented in that school district, while the enrollment is but a few over six hundred.

Miss Blankenbuehler's room, No. 13, reported one hundred per cent enrollment, with all subscriptions paid.

The Crest Avenue school reported 150 subscriptions this morning out of an enrollment of 350 pupils, a splendid showing.

Junior High School, Miss Carter's room reported subscriptions of 100 per cent, with all subscriptions paid. Splendid progress is being made in this department which has reported a membership of 100. The number of members are concerned, but all subscriptions are not yet paid in.

Miss Etta Work, Principal of the Junior High, is treasurer of the Junior Red Cross fund, who in turn will pay the amount over to Miss Minnie Richardson treasurer of the Senior Chapter. The Charleroi Chapter of the American Red Cross will furnish all material for the activities of the Junior Red Cross, but the Principals of the various school buildings must call and secure it from the work rooms of the association. In return, the Principals will be charged with delivering the finished product to the officers of the local Chapter. All those connected with the movement are greatly encouraged with the success which has attended the undertaking, which promises to add so much to the effectiveness of the parent Chapter.

ANOTHER SUIT TO SECURE SALARY

Another chapter has been added to the wage controversy between O. Evans Mikesell, Sealer of Weights and Measures for Washington county and T. J. Underwood county controller.

A few weeks ago Mr. Mikesell brought suit against the county to secure his wages for the first half of January, amounting to $75.00, won his suit, the court in adjudicating the claim, making the significant addendum, "Let us have peace." However, the Controller in spite of the decision of the court and its admonition has refused to pay to Mr. Mikesell his warrants for the latter half of January and the first half of February and consequently the Sealer has again entered suit against the county to recover $150.00. In the former suit the Commissioners in making answer said the county had no defense, and that the claim of Mr. Mikesell was a just one. It is likely that the same statement will be made with reference to the present claim. From what has already transpired it looks as if Mr. Mikesell will have to bring suit against the county every month to secure his salary although his vouchers are always approved by the Commissioners.

ELECTED STEWARD OF FAYETTE COUNTY HOME

Springer Todd for two years manager of the Donora brewery, was elected Steward of the Fayette County home a few days ago. Mr. Todd is well known to many citizens of Charleroi who will be pleased to hear of him.

CREST AVENUE TO DEDICATE FLAG

Miss Nora Swan, principal of the Crest avenue school, assisted by her teachers and pupils is arranging for a service flag dedication, to take place at the school building Friday afternoon, February 22, at 2:30 o'clock. Miss Swan is desirous of securing the names of all the pupils who formerly attended this school and who are now in the service of the United States in any of its military or naval branches, that a full record may be made of it, as well as a star placed on the flag which is to be dedicated on this date. Parents who are patrons of the school now, or who have been in the past and who have any knowledge of any pupil now in service that formerly attended the Crest Avenue school are requested to send in the name at once. A splendid program is being prepared for the occasion and the public is invited to be in attendance.

HEALTH OFFICER DESTROYS BARREL OF FISH

A barrel of fish which had been held too long by the Express company was destroyed on Tuesday by Health Officer Darby. The barrel contained over 100 pounds of food-stuffs.

Notice.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the A. O. H. will meet at the home of Daniel O'Rourke, 301 Shady avenue, this evening at 7:30 o'clock, to pay our respects to Miss Margaret O'Rourke, deceased.

Mrs. William Feeney, President.

CALIFORNIA AUXILIARY OF RED CROSS MAKES EXCELLENT SHOWING

ORDER MADE FOR SALE OF REAL ESTATE

The Washington county court on Monday in the estate of Thomas Harrington, late of Charleroi, made an order for the sale of real estate for the payment of debts. Thomas T. Wright has agreed to purchase deceased's half interest in a lot on McKean avenue, Charleroi, for the sum of $1,500.

NEW PASTOR INSTALLED

Rev. C. A. Keller Now Pastor of First Presbyterian Church

MUSIC A PLEASING FEATURE

The installation services at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at which time the Rev. C. Argyle Keller, M. A., B. D., was installed as pastor, was attended by a congregation that filled the auditorium of the church. The presence of so many members of the congregation, as well as friends, showed that the greatest interest was taken in the occasion which placed at the head of the church a new leader who it is anticipated will direct the work with renewed zeal and vigor. The church pulpit and rostrum was beautifully decorated with flowers under direction of the ladies of the congregation while the music furnished by the choir as well as the solo by Mrs. I. T. Daniel were features greatly enjoyed by the audience.

After the piano prelude an anthem by the choir and the doxology the following order of exercise and worship was observed:

Invocation, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison—Rev. Henri Poirrier. Hymn 300—"I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord."

Scripture Reading—Rev. LeRoy W. Lewellen.

Solo—Mrs. I. T. Daniel.

Sermon—Rev. John R. Burson.

Hymn 505—"How Firm a Foundation."

Constitutional Questions to pastor and people—Propounded by the moderator of Presbytery, Rev. Leroy W. Lewellen.

Charge to Pastor—Rev. William F. McKee, D. D.

Charge to Congregation—Rev. Leroy W. Lewellen.

Installation Prayer—Rev. John W. Burson.

Hymn 304—"The Church's One Foundation."

Benediction—Rev. C. Argyle Keller, M. A., B. D.

Piano Postlude.

Ideal Rooms in Which to Carry on Work Give Impetus to Efforts

MEMBERSHIP NOW OVER 1,000

One of the most progressive ranches of the Red Cross organizations in the Monongahela valley is the one at California, which is associated with the Charleroi Chapter in the great work for humanity which is now under way all over the country. While California is a Branch or Auxiliary of the Charleroi Chapter, it works in a measure independently, raising its own funds, buying and preparing its own supplies, as well as carrying along every feature which a well organized Auxiliary of the Red Cross is expected to.

It has ideal rooms in the new borough building of California, the council and firemen's rooms being utilized. The council chamber is used for the sewing room, while the surgical dressings and supplies are looked after in the firemen's room. Five sewing machines have been installed and another is promised in a short time, and on working days all of them are busy.

Mrs. J. B. Hornbake is Chairman of the Auxiliary, C. N. Savage chairman of the executive committee, Miss May Denny, Secretary and Frank McCue is treasurer. The membership of the Auxiliary is now over 1,000, among which are five life members. During the Christmas membership drive 378 new members were added. The donation to the war fund through this branch was $6,132.36 of which amount $1,528.34 was returned to the Auxiliary, while other large donations have been made for the purpose of purchasing supplies.

At the present time a campaign is on to secure permanent pledges to secure at least $500 per month to take care of the necessary expenses of the Auxiliary. Prof. G. A. Norris is chairman of this committee and is making excellent progress.

The working days of the Auxiliary are Wednesday and Thursday although the rooms were open practically all of December, Christmas day being the only vacation. The average attendance in the sewing room is 12, and in the surgical dressing room 10. A class for knitters has been started in the Normal School, with Mrs. W. S. Hertzog and Mrs. G. F. Dunkelberger in charge of this work.

The report of the Auxiliary up to the 31st of January, as made to Mr. J. D. Berryman, of Charleroi, is as follows:

Hospital Supplies—Surgical Dressings.

Gauze Articles.

420 9x9 compresses.

1680 4x4 compresses.

1160 8x4 compresses.

1562 4x4 sponges.

160 2x2 sponges.

905 2x2½ sponges.

IS THIS YOUR PROGRAM

The National Food Administration has asked the people of the United States to observe the following days: Monday—Wheatless Day. Tuesday—Meatless Day. Wednesday—Wheatless Day. Saturday—Porkless Day. One wheatless and one meatless meal every day.

This is the "Liberty Diet" prescribed by the food administration—Help Hoover Hit the Hun.

"PEOPLE WITHOUT A COUNTRY"

A woman of Charle-roi, who has met with a great deal of success in securing members for the local Chapter of the American Red Cross, is responsible for the phrase which is made the caption of this editorial. In her comings and goings, soliciting membership to the Red Cross, she met with many men of many minds, and quite a number of them wanted to argue the question; they were ready for a debate, or thought they were, and were ever ready with verbal camouflage to give excuses why they should not contribute or become members of the Red Cross, and sometimes even doubted the statements made by the solicitor.

However, she was fortified, for she had studied well the literature and statistics prepared by the Red Cross and was always ready to show all the "doubting Thomases" why this was true and what had been done and what it was doing. Moreover she was able to tell what the work of the Red Cross had cost, what it was costing at that time and the probable expenditures of the future. With such an array she brought many a doubter to time and he or they subscribed to the fund and became members.

However, there were others and many of them were American-born and American citizens, who refused to give anything—No sir, they had to take care of this and of that, and they had no money for the Red Cross. While they did not so express themselves, so far as they were concerned, the Red Cross would have to get along without them; its work did not interest their families, and the boys in the army and the navy would have to do the best they could, for "we have no money for the Red Cross."

These are the ones who have been termed "People without a country."

How well the title fits. How appropriate to a type of "slacker" which lives in every community, ready to take advantage of every opportunity which the law permits for the betterment of life, liberty and the "pursuit of happiness," but not a penny for the Red Cross, to help alleviate the sufferings of the thousands of men who daily enter the Red Cross hospitals to be cared for through the generosity of the people of the world. For the Red Cross is not sustained by the governments—it belongs to the people—but it is not supported by the "People without a country."

THE WHEAT SAVERS' LEAGUE?

Will you not put your name down as a member of the National Wheat Savers' League? There is no card to sign, and there are no dues to pay. But membership in the League will be an honor today and a pride in years to come.

Every member has an agreement with himself, or it may be with some member of his family, that he will save a bushel of wheat between now and next summer. He will do this by the faithful observation of the Food Administration's Wheatless days and Wheatless meals and by such other saving of wheat as his own ingenuity will invent.

Membership in the League will be graded according to the ingenuity the member uses in finding new ways of saving wheat. For this reason women are desired as members on account of their ability to make appetizing menus.

The League is an auxiliary of the army of the United States and of the armies of the Allies. The victory of these armies is partly dependent on the service and devotion of the members of the Wheat Savers' League.

The purpose of the League lies in the fact that the United States must send to the European Allies 50,000,000 bushels of wheat above our normal export during the present season. There is only one place for the wheat to come from and that is the consumers in the United States.

In order that this amount may be saved every citizen of the country must save from one quarter to one third of his normal consumption of wheat.

There will be no meetings of the Wheat Savers' League. No officers will be elected. You will not even have to report the results of your savings. All the duties are in your hands to order and to execute. You will not wear a button, or hang out a flag or display a placard. You may talk about your membership or you may make it a secret society if you wish. But you will be glad you have joined, for memberships will make you carry yourself better and will make you happier.

Join the Wheat Savers' League today. Save a bushel of wheat and help win the war.

WHAT IS IT TO YOU?

The first week in Lent closed on Tuesday.

This is the first time since the close of the Civil War, more than half a century ago, that the religious bodies of this country have been called upon to observe a war Lent. In the early Christian church Lent was a season in which the faithful begged God's mercy for themselves and were therefore expected to show mercy to others. The money spared by fasting was given in alms, the imperial laws forbade criminal processes, the Church reconciled penitents at the altars and imposed public penalties in expiation of their guilt, emperors released prisoners, masters pardoned their slaves and enemies became friends. It was a season of mourning.

World-wide strife and bloodshed have given to the present Lent a new meaning and while many of the old customs have been discontinued, the present season will be more generally observed in this country than at any time since the close of the Civil War. And it is fitting that it should be so considered and observed.

The fact that many thousands of the young men of this country are now on the battlefields of Europe lends a sobering influence to the season and many church organizations will devote much of their time to Red Cross and other war-relief work. It will truly be a season of prayer, sacrifice and self-examination.

No living man has known a Lent like this. Our troops will go in the Spring offensive. Victory will cost dearly loved lives. Sorrow awaits us. Death will darken many homes. We are going to need the things which Christianity stands for; its strength; its power; its joy. And Lent is the opportunity to make our religion real.

What is this Lent to you?

FOOLING THEMSELVES

It is not at all remarkable that the Berlin newspapers crow with great joy over what they believe is demoralization of the American morale by the Tuscania disaster. "Frightfulness" has been greatly relied upon by Germany, ever since the war began. Armless Red Cross nurses, babies impaled on bayonets, sunken hospital ships and hundreds of other horrors are part of the premeditated German war plans.

It goes to show how little Germany understands the character of the other peoples of the earth. She cannot realize that America is in the war to put down such things as this Tuscania "frightfulness," and that more of such things the stronger American determination to put an end to them. It will be an enlightened Germany when her policy of "frightfulness" comes to an end.

LYCEUM JUNIORS WIN FAST BASKET BALL GAME

The Lyceum Juniors defeated the Sinawa A. C. in a basket ball game at the high school gymnasium Tuesday evening in a fast game by a score of 13 to 7. The lineup was as follows:

Lyceum—23	Sinawa—7
Mahoney F	Steck
Minahan F	Daniels
J. Conelly G	Hurlburt
Wagner C	Owens
Schramko C	Mathias

Substitutes—J Brown for Conelly. Field goals—Mahoney 3, Minahan 1. Brown 1, Daniels 2, Steck 1. Fouls—Mahoney 2 out of 7, Wagner 1 out of 1, Daniels 1 out of 5.

The Methodist Minims defeated the Sinawa II by a score of 9 to 2.

Hun Prepares to Strike?

The Allies are Ready for Him

Germany is said to be making preparations for a stupendous "drive" on the Western front and we regret to say that not a few newspaper editors seem to be anticipating with apprehension, not to say alarm, the forthcoming assault by more than 2,000,000 Huns against those lines which the Allies have held with signal courage for more than three years.

Why become hysterical? Are the traditions of the Marne a myth? Has Verdun become but a fading memory? Was the defense of that French stronghold merely a temporary check against the legions of Attila?

What has the Teuton done to justify a belief that he can overcome the forces of Right and Justice arrayed against him in the cause of Democracy and Liberty, possessing also military ability?

Is it forgotten that, after the Huns goose-stepped through the little kingdom of Belgium and the virtually defenseless territory of Northern France, they were turned back by an army inferior in numbers, inferior in equipment and an army stunned in the first hour of the great tragedy by the suddenness of an invasion that had been set on foot after forty years of intense preparation? Is it forgotten that from that date in September, 1914, to the present moment the Germans have made no further advance? France, almost single-handed, held them at bay until Kitchener had organized the splendid army now in British uniform. Is it forgotten that the Germans have won no victories in this war, except over enemies either depleted in numbers or destitute of ordnance?

Will some American whose feet are cold tell us when or where or on what front the Germans have met an equal number of men as well equipped as themselves without recoiling? No American whose feet are cold will tell us, for no American can.

In the Autumn of 1914 the Russians overran East Prussia and did not turn back until their ammunition was gone; the Muscovite invaded Serbia, and proceeded on through the Carpathian Mountains, capturing stronghold after stronghold, yielding, finally not to the fighting, qualities of their adversary, but retreating only because traitors and grafters at home failed to supply them with the means of consolidating and holding the territory they had taken with their blood and bravery.

Even the Italian debacle of recent date was not due to the armed prowess of the enemy, but to a sinister propaganda, made possible by "fraternization," which enabled the shock regiments of Germany to hurl themselves against a foe already half-disarmed and demoralized by agitators. It was a betrayal of confidence typically Teuton—and it failed of its purpose. As soon as the Italians realized that they had been betrayed they rallied, reinforced by British and French, the same quality of troops that, with Americans, will oppose Germans on the Western front. And after they had rallied the shock regiments recoiled as they have recoiled everywhere since the war began in Italy, in France, in Belgium and in Russia, on the Eastern front, when met on equal terms.

Cold, calculating, cruel, the German soldier is not an invincible fighting man and history shows that he is not. If he were an invincible fighting man, with his years of preparation he would have overborne the enemy in the early months of the war.

He is servile. He will obey his officers, provided—and this is worth marking—he will obey his officers, provided he can do so hip-to-hip and shoulder-to-shoulder with other servile victims of the Teuton military caste.

He marches to death in wolf-pack formation with the precision of a machine, because, through generations of blind dependence he has learned to fear the Junker more than he fears the guns of the enemy.

This is not the kind of courage that wins battles. The German army is strong; not by arms, but by intrigue, taking advantage of treachery in Petrograd, Germany has Russia at her mercy, but what Germany accomplishes in the Western front, must be accomplished by her strong right arm. There will be no "fraternizing" for the purpose of slipping a knife into the Allies; there will be no agitation in favor of peace until the Kaiser acknowledges himself defeated. That he is preparing for an assault we do not doubt; that he may attempt in desperation to break through we may well believe for the Kaiser and his healthy sons are prodigal of men so long as they can keep their own skins whole. But we await the issue with faith in our soldiers, faith in the Allies and faith in the justice of our cause.

There is nothing more imbecile than a widespread impression that the Germans, as military units are composed of a race of supermen. They are composed of Germans such as we know in this country; men of ordinary parts, disciplined to obey. That is all. It will be conceded by any observant person that the average German is of no more alert intelligence than the average American, the average Englishman or the average Frenchman. Nor infrequently he is a very stupid individual and of notoriously bad manners. He is not freedom-loving and although illiteracy hardly exists in the empire, he is not educated or learned. After he quits school, long hours at hard work and small pay prevent him from cultivating his mind. If he were anything like the superior person credulous people believe in, he would have overthrown his crazy Kaiser when his crazy Kaiser overthrew Bismarck.—New York Telegraph.

MEAT DESTROYED BY LOCAL OFFICERS

Prior to and during a hearing on a charge of larceny preferred against Charles Heidovitzsch, before Justice Whitehead, Tuesday evening by Joe Prise the McKean avenue butcher, it developed that the representative of the State Dairy and Food Commissioner and the local Health Officer were called upon to destroy about 1100 pounds of pork shoulders, which had become unfit for use as human food and which were in possession of Prise at his store.

Heidovitzsch had been employed by Prise as a butcher and had either quit or been discharged by his employer. He went to Chief Albright on Friday for a permit card to travel, having previously been registered as an alien enemy. He told the Chief of some of his troubles, at the same time making certain charges against his former employer. Heidovitzsch came back to the police station Saturday morning and shortly after Prise appeared and wanted the man arrested on a charge of larceny.

However, after Chief Albright heard the statement he requested and received a deposit of $5 from Heidovitzsch. Later a charge was made against the man before Justice Whitehead and a hearing was held Tuesday night, which resulted in the accused having to pay the costs. When the second charge was made Chief Albright returned the deposit in his hands.

In the meantime Heidovitzsch had accused Prise of having a quantity of spoiled meat in his possession and the local food and health officers being apprised of the fact made an investigation and found the 1100 pounds of pork, which they confiscated and took to the garbage furnace, where it was destroyed.

OFFICERS WERE VERY INDIGNANT

Chief of Police Wheatley and members of the police force of Monessen are quite indignant at the treatment accorded to Mrs. Mary Fedor and her four children, by officials at Webster on Monday.

It appears that Mrs. Fedor was arrested on information made by Superintendent McDonough of the Equitable mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company and taken before Justice of the Peace Lynch of Webster, who, after a hearing is said to have fined the woman $5 and costs. The woman had been out on the tracks picking coal, and it is alleged this was the offense for which she was arrested and fined. As the woman did not pay the fine, she, together with her four children, were brought to Monessen Monday evening, where they were all locked up.

Monessen officials appeared to think that rather drastic treatment had been accorded to the woman, in view of the fact that picking coal from railroad tracks in and about coal tipples is so universally practiced. Burgess Stewart, of Monessen, says the Webster officials will have to pay for full time in the use of the Monessen lockup, but that he was powerless to take any further action in the matter.

CARS ARE NOW ON HOURLY SERVICE

Trolley service on the Pittsburgh & Charle-roi line is now firmly established on the hour basis, with cars running on schedule time. In addition thereto, there is a half-hour service between Roscoe and Riverview, beginning at 5:30 a. m. and continuing until 10 a. m. A through half-hour car, in addition to the hour cars, leaves Fifth street, Charle-roi every afternoon at 3:40. Just when the half-hour through service will be established Superintendent Yost is unable to say as they are short of motormen for the additional equipment of cars. If additional help could be secured it would not be long until the usual half-hour service would be re-established.

Mrs. Ella House of Bentleyville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilmore attended the funeral of John Snider of McKeesport on Monday.

William Dwyer of Fayette City who has been ill for several weeks was able to visit his sister Mrs. Everet Harris on Monday.

ALMOST AN INCH OF RAINFALL LAST NIGHT

A heavy wind and rainstorm visited the valley Tuesday night, and from reports received it appeared to be quite general. The government gauge at Lock No. 4 showed a total precipitation from 8 o'clock Tuesday morning until 8 o'clock Wednesday morning of .82 of an inch. Most of this rain fell about midnight. As a result of this rain the river began to rise again and was making 4 inches an hour shortly before noon.

Loads of Bibles.

One hundred and twenty-five cases of Bibles arrived at Ebn Owein, Africa, requiring 125 African porters, each with the regulation load of 60 pounds on his head, in single file, to take these Bibles to their destination through the bush. There were 25 Bibles to each unlined case, making a total of 3,100 copies, which, it is believed, will be sold to the natives within the year.

Beginning of Shipbuilding.

The first buoy was several logs lashed together and anchored by a stone. Man was just venturing upon the waters. Rafts ready made by nature were bestowed upon him in the jetsam of the storm. Man built better and better rafts. His old oars anchored by rattan-held boulders came to mark his landing place and home. Whence came the naught of harbor buoys.

Use for Coffee Grounds.

The question of what to do with the coffee grounds has at last been satisfactorily answered, says the Popular Science Monthly. Just pour them out into the sink-strainer and dump them into the garden. They contain some valuable fertilizing properties, including a large percentage of nitrogen and a fair amount of potassium and phosphorus.

Keep Smiling.

Best advice of all is contained in the last words of the chorus of a popular song: "Smile—smile—smile!" However, you must smile from the heart, not merely twitching facial muscles mechanically, but flashing a message of friendliness and jollity from the heart.—Burlington Hawkeye.

BOND SELLING HELPS BUSINESS

MONEY REMAINS LARGELY HERE

Process Becomes an Endless Chain
Which Only Strengthens as it
Gains Momentum.

Washington, D. C.—(Special)—Fifty years ago the expenditure of a billion dollars in one year by the government would have been regarded as a certain fore-runner of national bankruptcy. Less than 20 years ago the country was nonplussed when the first billion dollar congress registered the high-water mark of legislative extravagance.

But this year we will spend something like twenty billions and never bat an eye.

When this figure was first announced there was considerable shaking of conservative heads. There was grave question of where the money could be raised and openly expressed doubt that it could be had at all. But above all was the dominant fear that it would precipitate chaos in the business world.

Yet conditions were never better. The people subscribed for five billions of bonds and went about paying for them as if it were an everyday affair. The merchants are breaking records; the manufacturers are working day and night; the farmers are enjoying record prices; workmen are drawing better pay than in years, prosperity is greater than ever before and business is having no palpitation of the heart whatever.

And although the government hasn't been resorting to the printing press, methods of some European countries, there is just as much money in circulation as ever.

The secret of this modern miracle is that the people are producing more right now than they ever have in all their lives, and the government, directly or indirectly, is providing a ready market for everything that is produced.

Subscribing for five billions of bonds is a tremendous evidence of American loyalty; but paying for them is an even more astonishing emphasis of an American thrift which generally has been subject to much skepticism. It's an eye-opener.

The ordinary bond subscription is no more or less than an automatic transfer of credit at your bank to Uncle Sam. But its payment means that you have produced value of some saleable variety to the amount of your purchase. And that's what counts.

Just so long as Uncle Sam can keep the present money supply turning over and over, everything will go along smoothly. The more bonds we can buy and pay for, the better conditions will become. Little or none of this money leaves the country. Our foreign loans are merely extensions of credit; giving them a charge account so-to-speak, which in turn they settle by long time note. Uncle Sam takes their note and gives us his bond. He stands between them and us as a guarantee of payment.

In effect Uncle Sam makes of this Liberty Bond money an endless chain which grows with every revolution. Every bond you buy forges a new link. Every revolution makes for business expansion, for industrial increase, for greater prosperity.

Buying a bond is boosting business.

SMILE.

At no time is the croaker less than an abomination. At the present time he is a pest—a disgusting pest—that is doing serious harm to the country. If there ever was a time when we should do cheerfully the things that we have to do, and when our hearts should be filled with hope for the future, it is now.

When the boys marched to the train they had a smile on their faces, because they were performing the full measure of their duty. This should be the case for all of us. Smile when we do without things we do not need, because we are saving labor. Smile when we invest our savings in Liberty Bonds, because we are serving ourselves and our country. Smile when our boys leave, because through them we are doing out utmost for freedom.

Through all the anxious days and nights that are to come we should smile, smile—otherwise the task before us will be many times more difficult of accomplishment.

Can't Be Done.

"I tell her she is the only woman I ever loved." "Of course." "But she doesn't seem to believe me." "You can't help that. I doubt if Adam ever convinced Eve on that point."—Louisville Courier Journal.

At the Reception.

"What strange manners that author has." "Yes. If you didn't know he was a literary lion you'd mistake him for an educated pig."—Boston Transcript.

FARMERS PLEDGE THEMSELVES TO PURCHASE LIBERTY BONDS.

Columbus, O.—(Special)—Farmers throughout the state are preparing to refute in the next Liberty Bond campaign the charge that they are slackers. Practically every Farmer's Institute held within the last two months has adopted resolutions pledging all in attendance to buy bonds at the next offering. Subsidiary branches of the State Grange are also doing this.

If the man who trades a Liberty Bond for a share of stock will only say "yes" to the next day, and some one who will sell him the same, he will be a success.

CAMP SHERMAN MEN FOR OVERSEAS DUTY

On Tuesday a call was made for 5 600 members of the 83rd Division at Camp Sherman for overseas duty. Many of these men will volunteer, while a considerable number will be selected by the commanding officers for the assignment. No non-commissioned officers will be taken from the camp as they are considered indispensable and will be used as a nucleus around which the Division will be recruited up to its full strength.

Not all of the men called for will be sent directly overseas. Approximately 500 will be transferred within the next few weeks to camps and cantonments where special units are being mobilized. The others will be sent to ports of embarkation, where they will join units that have already been selected for early overseas service.

The 83rd Division has several hundred men from Washington county and it is altogether likely that quite a number of them will be among those who will be selected as well as volunteers for this duty.

SLACKWATER CREW ARE FIRE FIGHTERS

The United States Steamer Slackwater. Capt. James T. Nutt, has on several occasions this winter proved herself quite an icebreaker, but the boat and crew are now entitled to additional honors as fire fighters, because of an occurrence which happened at Lock No. 11 last Saturday.

The steamer had gone to Lock No. 11 after a strenuous tour of duty in the fifth pool assisting to break the ice gorge. While in harbor at No. 11 Saturday morning, about 7 o'clock, an alarm of fire was sounded. Investigation developed the fact that a house on the river bank not far away occupied by a woman with a family of small children was on fire. The woman, it appears, appealed to a gang of track laborers working on the railroad, but not one of them responded. Capt. Nutt being apprised of the condition of affairs, assembled the members of his crew, who to a man went to the assistance of the woman and her children, and with a bucket line soon had the fire extinguished, and all the goods saved. No reason was assigned for the refusal of the railroad workmen to respond to the appeal for assistance.

The Slackwater returned to Lock No. 4 Monday morning, with a tow of eleven empty flats, which are now moored at the government boatyard.

WILL ENTERTAIN MEN BEFORE GOING TO CAMP

The Home Defense Police and Sons of Veterans of Donora will entertain the 42 men summoned to report at that place next Monday evening preparatory to their departure for Camp Sherman. A banquet will be tendered the men at the Elks Club at which time some special features will be presented. The men are scheduled to leave for Camp Sherman early Tuesday morning.

PUBLIC MEETING WILL DISCUSS AMENDMENT

A public meeting to discuss the legislative situation in Washington county will be held in the public meeting room of the court house at Washington. Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called by the Anti-Saloon league and invitations have been sent to leading men all over the county who are known to be interested in the ratification by the coming session of the legislature of the national prohibitory amendment.

SOLDIER'S ROMANCE IS SOON SHATTERED

John L. Burr of Washington now a member of Co. K. 110th Regiment, at Camp Hancock on Monday filed a suit in divorce in the Washington county courts against Pearl Clark Burr, to whom he was married on March 12, 1917. They were married in Wheeling. In his statement Burr names William Carey as co-respondent.

This Is Our Winter of Test

SERVING food is a local problem for each community. Prices and definite rules for every one cannot be formulated. It is a duty for each one to eat only so much as is necessary to maintain the human body healthy and strong. This winter of 1918 is the period when it is to be tested here in America whether our people are capable of voluntary individual sacrifice to save the world. That is the purpose of the organization of the United States Food Administration—by voluntary effort to provide the food that the world needs.

TRY A CLASSIFIED WANT AD

NORTHWEST RICH IN TIMBER

Pacific Coast Has Enough Fir, Cedar, Pine, Spruce and Hemlock to Build Homes for All.

In the Pacific northwest stand 1,500,000,000,000 feet of timber. A Seattle contractor tells me that this would build a bungalow for every man, woman and child in the nation. Edward Mott Woolley writes in McClure's. Up on the north Pacific coast are 30,000,000 acres of forests. It is estimated that the state of Washington alone has about 400,000,000,000 feet of standing fir, cedar, pine, spruce and hemlock. In Oregon and Idaho there are 700,000,000,000 feet. In 1916 the distribution of Washington lumber by ocean carriers was nearly 900,000,000 feet.

I cannot make a fair estimate of the money that lumber brings to the Puget sound country in a year. I might guess it at several hundred million dollars.

I have seen it estimated that the Washington lumber and shingles shipped by rail alone are worth $50,000,000. Lumber last year represented 55 per cent of the tonnage furnished Washington railroads. Of the wage earners in Washington and Oregon more than 60 per cent are engaged in lumbering operations. Wages paid in Washington and Oregon for work connected with lumber stand for 50 per cent of the total. Some mills have an output of 150,000,000 feet a year.

The evolution of the Pacific coast lumber industry has been in keeping with the general development. Giant machinery now handles both the logs and lumber. Steam loggers and skidders do heroic work in the woods and steel cables lower the big logs down perpendicular mountain slopes. I heard of an ocean-going log raft 900 feet long drawing 24 feet of water.

ENGLISH THRUSHES TUNE UP

Songsters Are in Evidence Even Early in February, Robins Singing Throughout the Winter.

Thrushes in England are early singers, and it is not unusual to hear a thrush singing even in the first week of February, says the Christian Science Monitor. The gardens—and, of course, a thrush loves a garden—are then green, and moist, and very quiet and already in full possession of the robin, a very charming musician—a musician that sings throughout the winter and gains particular laurels in doing so.

This season the thrushes that inhabit the woods and hedges and remain during the winter have decided to break through tradition and sing as much and as early as they have a mind to. It seems that they, as well as the robins, sing in December and sing in full voice. Some one has heard a De Reszke in a thicket, who begins with the daybreak, and sings as gloriously a song as any that he is wont to sing in the early days of spring.

Have his calculations been thrown out by the mildness of the weather, for we hear of bunches of outdoor chrysanthemums coming in from country gardens, or is there a movement on foot for complete liberty of action in regard to the commencement and duration of the musical season?

A "Changed" Quarter.

Thousands of persons, banks and corporations are daily causing the secret service and treasury great annoyance by telephone calls inquiring if the 1917 quarter has been counterfeited, states the New York World. The National City bank and the Federal Reserve bank are among those who have been flooded with requests for enlightenment.

The trouble results from an act of congress, based on the idea that the legend on the reverse side of the piece was not as clear as it should be, ordering it changed. The new issue recently was put in circulation.

In the first issue the eagle is at the bottom of the coin and there are seven stars on the left and six stars on the right of the national bird.

In the second issue the eagle has been placed near the center of the coin, and there are five stars on each side and three stars beneath the eagle and the "E pluribus unum" and other reading matter is more distinct.

Both coins are of course O. K.

The Handy Automobile.

It is not an uncommon sight on an extra frosty morning, notes an exchange, to see a teamster walking alongside his team to keep warm, but it certainly was surprising on such a day to see a driver doing that with an automobile.

This was on a broad, smooth suburban highway, where the passengers shooting past in a big limousine saw a delivery wagon ambulating serenely along while its driver, swinging his arms to warm himself, was trotting along beside it on the ground, just as he might have done if instead of a machine he had been driving a horse and wagon.

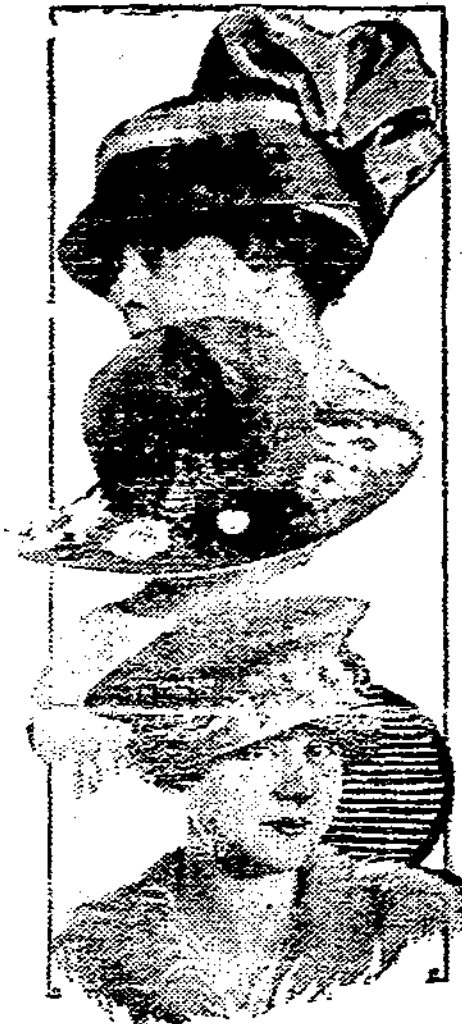

An Indefinite Liability.

A true story about a citizen whose daughter is about to be married, and who has been trying to get a line on what the expense of the rather elaborate ceremony will be. He approached a friend of his, seeking information.

"Morris," he said, "your oldest daughter was married about five years ago, wasn't she? Would you mind telling me about how much the wedding cost you?"

"Not at all, Sam," was the answer. "Altogether about five thousand dollars a year."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MISS SPRING BONNET IN ANNUAL TRIUMPH

Mr. First Robin sings again. It's an annual contest—this race between Mr. First Robin and Miss Spring Bonnet, as to which shall appear first. And in 1918, as most seasons of the past, Mr. Red Breast is not seen until days after Miss Spring Bonnet has come and conquered.

Proof that Miss Spring Bonnet has again won the early stakes may be had by gazing in the shop windows.

At the top is a poke hat of brass colored hanks straw with a twist and a bustle of peacock green silk. The second hat is a four-piece crown confection whose black taffeta broad brim is embellished by a festoon of velvet daisies, poppies, and blue cornflowers. At the base is a hanks turban of bronze straw and a wreath of berries.

NEW IDEAS FROM BIG CONVENTION

Lloyd H. Bowers a member of the firm of J. H. Bowers & Son, has just returned from the Pennsylvania and Atlantic Seaboard Hardware Association and New York Retail Hardware dealers joint convention, which assembled at the Hotel Astor New York City. While attending this convention Mr. Bowers was a guest at the Hotel Astor and reports many things of international and commercial interest. This association being the greatest of its kind in the world is greatly assisting the United States win the war. A very beautiful and artistic display of hardware was shown by the leading manufacturers and jobbers of the country at Madison Square Gardens, to acquaint them with the new articles and ideas, as well as greatly assisting them in making purchases. While last year the convention was reported as being the largest mercantile gathering that ever assembled in New York City this year all indications pointed to it being even greater.

Barrier to Sight of Stars.

A theory gaining scientific acceptance is that in the void of interstellar space there is a substance which veils from our view the stars beyond a certain limit of distance. Consisting presumably of microscopic and widely scattered particles, it nevertheless makes a barrier to vision when distances are sufficiently great.

In other words, if we were far enough away from the sun there would be enough of these particles between ourselves and that luminary to render it invisible to us.

Dr. C. G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institution, said that the estimated density of this "substance" is one trillionth of that of the air we breathe. Pretty thin, one might say. And yet a sphere (in space) whose radius was the distance from the earth to the star nearest to our solar system would contain a quantity of the substance equal to 1,000 times the mass of the sun!

1917 A YEAR-OF DISASTERS

Earth Never Trembled So Violently and So Generally as During the Past Twelve Months.

An earthquake that destroyed the city of Guatemala has added to the record of disasters and horrors that have marked the past year, quite apart from the tragedies of the war, as one of the most dreadful in modern annals. Early in the year 1917 an earthquake occurred in central Formosa, killing 300. Later in the same month 550 were killed by an earthquake on the Island of Bali, on the Malay archipelago.

In April many were killed in Turkey and Umbria, in Italy, by an earthquake. Shocks occurred in different parts of the world throughout the spring, the most severe being in San Salvador, where fortunately no lives were lost, though serious damage was done. Heavy damage was done in July in the Samoan islands, with losses of life. In August an earthquake in New Zealand caused serious destruction. In September Colombia felt a series of shocks lasting for two weeks, with the destruction of hundreds of houses and some losses of life. A disaster of another character, but belonging to the record of misfortunes of the year, occurred in Halifax harbor on the 6th of December, when a munitions ship was destroyed by collision with another vessel and over 1,500 lives were lost, with a property loss of $50,000,000.

Now comes the Guatemala quake, the full effect of which is not known, but which has doubtless taken a heavy toll of life and has rendered 125,000 people homeless. Rarely has the earth trembled so violently and so generally as during the past year. The full toll of deaths from the shakes will perhaps never be known, as many of the disturbances occurred in remote places.

ARMY WITH ETERNAL SMILE

English Warriors Display Greatest Fortitude Especially During Hours of Suffering in Hospitals.

Sir Berkeley Moynihan, the representative of Great Britain in the surgeon general's office in Washington, said recently that the English army is an army with a smile, that it never wears off and that where it is most persistent is in the war hospitals. In his ceaseless visits to the bedside of the wounded at night he could not but be touched by the awful loneliness and solitude and the aching misery of the early hours of the day. But never was there a whimper of regret or surrender.

Never would he forget one boy who had a bad compound fracture of the knee joint, which every effort had been made to save. In spite of the efforts gangrene had come on and amputation was necessary.

By blood transfusion, the use of which in surgery was due to Maj. George Cline, the American surgeon, the boy had been put into something like fair condition. Though still a grave surgical risk the boy had had to have his chance.

Sir Berkeley had seen him several times during the evening and again at half past eleven, when he had said: "Well, how are you?" The boy turned his white, weary face to him and said as loudly as he could, "I am tip-top, sir," and at midnight was dead.

Volumes Couldn't Say More.

A curious sidelight on German standards of probity is found in a report of the case of Lieutenant Spindler, who commanded the German ship Lipan, which landed Casement in Ireland and was captured, says the Outlook. Spindler gave up four pounds when taken prisoner, saying it was all he had. "When his captor asked, 'On your honor?' Spindler replied, 'No, no more.' A search revealed 21 five-pound notes concealed in his clothing. The attorney general asked him: 'Do you think in the circumstances you were entitled to give an untruthful answer?' Lieutenant Spindler replied: 'There may be different points of view—the point of view of an English officer and the point of view of a German officer.' Volumes could speak no more.

Better Clothes for Tommy.

A long-standing grievance of the British soldier is to be remedied. On discharge he was served out with a suit of shoddy, described in the trade as "reach me downs," a cheap tweed cap and a muffler, the value being fixed at $4.20.

A newspaper man who witnessed the discharge of the men who fought at Mons described the returning heroes as looking like charity pensioners.

The press dealt with the complaint and the war office amended the scheme by substituting for the muffler a collar and a tie and suggesting greater care in the fitting of individual suits. Henceforth these men are to be released for civilian life wearing suits of decent quality and cut, representing $10, wholesale value.

Rehabilitation of Holy Land.

Immediate plans for the rehabilitation of the Holy Land, to fit it for the home of the Jews of the world, are now under consideration by the officers of the New York Zionist organization. A medical unit will be dispatched to the stricken land, loans will be made to the colonists to rebuild and reënt their farms and vineyards, and irrigation and sanitation problems must be solved. The $1,000,000 fund now being raised will be used for immediate purposes, and it is believed the reconstruction work will involve an expenditure of approximately $100,000,000.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Charleroi Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Often times 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Charleroi women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. Fred Jackson, 207 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, says: "I was troubled by a constant backache. If I did a little extra work the pain in my back was intense. I didn't rest well at night and got up in the morning lame and stiff. If I stooped, sharp pains caught me and I could hardly straighten. I also had rheumatic pains in my back and arms and I couldn't do any sweeping. Dizzy spells and hot flashes bothered me terribly. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family, I got a box at Piper Bros. Drug Store and began taking them. One box practically cured me."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mrs. Jackson. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 40

Young Men as Army Aviators

Probably no class of men have responded more liberally to the call for volunteers than the students and graduates of American universities. Practically every great seat of learning has contributed its quota. This group shows three former Yale football stars in Unit No. 3, Aerial Coast Patrol, who are already proficient air pilots. The unit is composed almost entirely from colleges in the East.

London Giant Requires Two Beds in Hospital

Giants being conspicuous on the streets, there are other inconveniences to the human giant. A London hospital recently received as a patient a man nearly eight feet tall. In order to accommodate him in one of the beds it was necessary to couple together a cot and a crib that he might recline length. The ordinary bed was far too short to accommodate him. The accompanying picture shows this giant in the two beds. He has a normal appearance, a man of his size, but on one occasion when he was hungry at breakfast ate the breakfast for the entire ward. The meal consisted principally of bread and butter and broth. It's really expensive to be so big in times when the cost of living is so high.

AIMING A BIG GUN.

A Task in Which Figure Chemistry, Mathematics and Physics.

Today there is about as much difference between aiming a big gun and aiming a rifle as there is between sailing a superdreadnaught and sailing a steam yacht. It was not very long ago, however, that a gun was aimed similarly to a rifle in that the direction in which it was pointed was obtained by sighting along its barrel.

But, now things are not done that way. The gunners are often far out of sight of what they are shooting at, and the remarkable hits that they make are only explained by the use they make of careful scientific calculations.

To direct the fire of one of the bigger guns, for example, requires that no less than fifteen complicated corrections be made, says Popular Science Monthly. Each correction requires an average of five adjustments, all of which must first be exactly figured out by those in command. The most important corrections which are made are for the influence of the resistance of the air, the influence of the earth's curvature and the attraction of gravity on the distance the bullet may be carried.

In place of the guesswork of previous times is the use of the most advanced developments in the fields of mathematics, physics and chemistry.

HAITI CLEANS HOUSE.

Changes That Were Brought About by the American Occupation.

Five years ago in Haiti there was a mile of macadamized roadway, and the new streets, taking the place of combination trails and sewers, are the most noticeable changes brought about by the American occupation.

But more remarkable than the streets is the astonishing sight of squads of Haitians actually cleaning the streets. Under the old regime the chief occupations of the male citizens of Haiti were cockfighting and politics.

The refuse and smells have departed and, better still, most of the children have disappeared from the streets. They are actually at school, where by Haitian law they are supposed to be, but where by Haitian lawlessness only about 10 per cent of them ever used to be.

About 4 o'clock every week day you will see this newly mobilized infantry coming home in squads clean and, unfortunately for the picturesque value of Haitian highways and byways, not thoroughly provided with clothe World's Work.

Humor Found Everywhere.

Among those pre-eminently gifted with humor were Abraham Lincoln, Disraeli, Goethe and Heine, the Lord Salisbury, Arthur Schopenhauer, Thackeray, Eliza Follen, Queen Elizabeth, etc.

Dr. Johnson, Charles Lamb and Byron. The only person who lacks it altogether are madmen. Criminals as a whole are never without it. There is the case of one murderer at the bar in London who on being asked if there were any reason why sentence of death should not be passed upon him replied, "No; I am disgusted with the whole proceedings." Another in a similar situation on being asked whether he had a last request to make said, "Well, I should like to learn to play the piano."—Sir Herbert Beerlium Tree.

Pleasures of Irritability.

Learn how to be irritable. When any one says anything to you always imagine he is trying to insult you. Few appreciate the innocent enjoyment to be had in snapping and snarling at those we meet through the day. Have things get on your nerves. If things get on your nerves you will find it an easy matter to be sour and surly. After awhile you will find that most anything gets on your nerves, especially people who are happy and cheerful. The idiots! Some people are born irritable, others acquire it, and they all should have curses cursed upon them. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Torpedoes From a Submarine.

The torpedo from a submarine can be fired either while the submarine is on the surface or completely submerged. Usually a submarine comes within ten feet of the surface, with only the periscope showing, and discharges its torpedo. If there is danger of the ship the submarine gets the proper position of the ship, submerges itself completely and then fires.

After our revolutionary war, Lafayette was trying to reach Holland to escape enemies at home. He was seized by the Austrian government and imprisoned as a dangerous character. His wife also was imprisoned at Paris during the reign of terror, but succeeded in getting to Vienna and pleaded with the emperor for her husband's release. Lafayette's friends in this country did what they could in his behalf, and finally, on the 25th of August, 1791, he was set at liberty after five years' confinement in a dungeon. During this imprisonment two American friends of Lafayette, Francis K. Hugue of Charleston, S. C., and Dr. Eric Bollman, made a daring attempt to liberate him, for which they both were imprisoned.

Horses Have Quick Ears.

The horse is really one of the best listeners in the world. He is always on the alert for sounds which concern or interest him. When he looks at anything he turns his ears toward it to observe the better whether any sound comes from it. If a horse is particularly interested in your driving of him he always turns his ears backward toward you, but if he has no concern on that subject or if he sees anything ahead that interests him he keeps his ears pricked forward. A horse hears the whinny of another horse at a greater distance than the average man can hear it.—Boston Transcript.

Vegetable Cutlets.

Try the following recipe on your "meatless day." Take equal quantities of carrots, turnips, parsnips and onions and sufficient potatoes to form half the mixture. Slice the onions and brown in a little butter. Boil the other vegetables and chop them up finely, mixing them with the potatoes, which should be mashed. Season and add some chopped parsley. When cold form into cutlets and fry in egg and breadcrumbs.—London Answers.

RAILROAD COMPANY TO SECURE ADDITIONAL SUPPLY OF WATER

Heavy Demand Had Exhausted Supply in the Various Reservoirs

CONNECTS WITH MONONGAHELA

Arrangements have been made between the Monongahela Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Monongahela City Water Company, whereby a connection has been made between the water lines of these two companies at Factory street, Monongahela, with a view of supplying the railroad company with an additional supply of water.

For a number of years the railroad company has been obtaining its supply of water for its engines from Indian creek a mountain stream in Fayette county. The railroad company bought up most of the water shed of this creek and has impounded the water, erecting a big reservoir at that point, from where the water is distributed all along the Monongahela Division as well as the South-west and a portion of the Pittsburgh Division. This water being pure and free from chemicals and acids has made it a splendid supply for boiler engines, there being no danger from damaged flues while it is used. Formerly the railroad company used water from the Monongahela, but this stream becoming thoroughly impregnated with acid made it unavailable, and other arrangements had to be made. After securing the Indian creek water, the railroad company laid big pipe lines from its new source of supply to a number of reservoirs and water tanks along the Division, from which engines were supplied.

Recently however the demand upon the supply of water became so heavy that an additional source had to be arranged for. The reservoirs of the company have been practically dry for a number of days and it was absolutely necessary to increase the supply, which has now been arranged for with the water company of Monongahela. This arrangement will extend at least until the present shortage has been overcome.

Charleroi Business Volume Stands Second in County

The business done by the retail merchants of the county is an unfailing barometer of the community's prosperity. A careful compilation of the sworn returns on file in the office of the county treasurer, shows that there are 2,062 retail establishments in Washington county, and that their total business for the year as reported in 1917, aggregated $14,569,594.

Washington led the list with 346 merchants doing a total business of $3,206,600; Charleroi was second with an aggregate business of $1,490,350 and Monongahela third with a total business of $1,312,300. These are the only three districts in the county doing a retail business in excess of a million dollars for the year. There are 185 retail houses in Charleroi and 188 in Monongahela City.

Donora and Canonsburg rank respectively fourth and fifth. In Donora 212 merchants transact a retail business amounting to $941,290 and in Canonsburg a total business of $867,000 is transacted by 144 retail merchants.

WAR SERMON WAS WELL RECEIVED

The first of a series of four sermons on the war was delivered Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. C. A. Hartung. His subject was, "The New Cross." There were three large crosses, the Blue Cross, the Red Cross and the White Cross. Rev. Hartung gave the history of each, emphasizing in particular the great work of the Red Cross, giving its work from the time of its organization in Cincinnati in 1882 until now. He also spoke of the Blue Cross organization as the new cross, the Blue Cross doing for the criminal what the Red Cross does for the man. And the White Cross, the cross of Christ doing for the soul what the Red Cross does for the body. That the need of America is to support the Cross.

In part he said: This war is a war for great christian ideals. The world must be made safe for democracy. If we are defeated in France we are defeated in America, and we lose the freedom we cherish and the liberty we love. Autocracy must be defeated. He gave a history of Alsace-Lorraine,

SERIOUSLY HURT IN MONESSEN MILL

Owen Desellems, aged 16 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Desellems, of near Lock Four, was seriously injured while at work in the open hearth department of the Pittsburgh Steel Company plant in Monessen on Saturday night last. The accident happened about 9:30 o'clock, and resulted in the boy having one leg so badly crushed that it was necessary to have it amputated in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela, to which institution he was taken for treatment. The boy's other leg was also injured, but not seriously. He was reported in a serious condition Sunday evening but is somewhat improved today.

and showed the important phase it holds in the present war. There was a large map showing the battle grounds of liberty. Mr. Bosson sang a beautiful solo. The attendance was good and much interest was manifested. Thrift Stamps, War Saving Stamps, Red Cross work, Liberty Loan literature was on display and for free distribution.

CHARLEROI BOG SENT TO CAMP DIX TO BE TRAINED FOR WAR

WILL RESUME WORK ON NO. 2 REPAIRS

With the re-opening of navigation on the Monongahela river active preparations are under way at the United States boat yard, Lock Four, to resume work on the repairs to the outer lock at No. 2. New gates and new valves will be installed and it is expected it will require about three months to complete the work.

SERVICE FLAG IS DEDICATED

Interesting Service in Washington Ave. Presbyterian Church

TWENTY NAMES ON BANNER

An interesting service was held Sunday morning at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian Church, when the Young Men's Bible Class dedicated a silk service flag, upon which were twenty stars, in honor of the members who are now in service in various departments of the United States Army. A short program was observed in the presentation, which was carried out by the class with the following numbers:

Lavenging—President Paul Manon, Roll Call, Secretary—Ewing Bernavsky.

Response for the absent, O. M. Wise.

The stars on the flag were for the following members: Lieutenant John Galt, Lieutenant James Wagner, Lieutenant Paul Ternarsky, Wilson Piper, Ralph Williamson, Sergeant John Cutler, Corporal Harold Letz, Corporal John Speers, James Jewell, Arch Jewell, Marion Kinder, Charles Dunham, Arden Calvert, Walter Diamond, Myron Jobs, Robert Coulter, Thomas Jeffries, George Osborn, Ray Speers, Harry Swickey.

A feature of the exercises was the dedicatory ode, composed by a member of the class and given by Miss Ruth Swickey.

There's a star of white on a field of blue,
In the arch of heaven's dome,
It speaks of a God with sleepless eye,
Keeping watch above his own.

There's a star of blue on a field of gold,
As it hangs on yonder wall,
It speaks of boys from your home and mine,
Who have answered their country's call.

They're scattered far in field and camp,
Some are across the sea
And there on the ship to the far
France, Are fighting for you and me.

Owned by C. S. VanVoorhis, Who Loans Him to Army For Service

USED BACK OF BATTLE LINE

The champion bear dog "Ben," owned by Charles S. VanVoorhis was shipped by express today to Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., to be trained as a war dog.

"Ben" is past two years old and is a true bloodhound and part bloodhound. He was offered to the government by his owner a short time ago, and a letter from Capt. John Wanamaker, Jr., of the Quartermaster's Department, said the dog would be received at the above named camp for training purposes. The animal will be returned to the owner, after the war, provided he goes through the struggle without being killed. Or if the animal does not make good at the training camp he will also be returned.

Mr. VanVoorhis, however, has no fear but what "Ben" will be able to do everything the officers at the camp desire him to. "Ben" has been trained as a bear dog and has seen service at the camp of the Charleroi Mountain Club, where he came up to all expectations.

The dogs will be trained at Camp Dix to carry messages from one part of the field to another as well as doing relief work. They are equipped with a saddle, with pockets on either side, in which will be placed food and water. Along the battle lines these dogs are sent out on rescue missions and if they come to a wounded soldier in a shell hole, they "stand" until the wounded man has helped himself to the supplies. If the animal returns with an empty saddle the officers know that some one has been temporarily relieved.

Mr. VanVoorhis will be advised from time to time of the progress the animal is making in training camp, and if he goes "over there," as he likely will, his success as a member of the United States army will be watched with the greatest interest.

So we honor today these boys of ours,
Who with hope and vision bright
Have offered all at duty's call,
For freedom and truth and right.

We will pray each night to the God of love,
That their lives may be precious to Him.

And whatever may come that he will keep,
Their souls from the taint of sin,
And when victory's won as won it must be,
For Justice is never blind,

Bring them safely home to those they love,
Pure in heart and clean in mind.

Of the twenty members of the class in service, five are in France: Lieutenant James Wagner, Ralph Williamson, James Jewell, Arden Calvert and Myron Jobs.

WHY A LIBERTY BOND?

Many thousands of America's loyal, well meaning and worthy citizens do not just quite understand the reason for these liberty loans. All their lives they have regarded the United States as the richest, the most prosperous and greatest nation on earth. To them it has been a land of peace and plenty, "the land of the free and the home of the brave." In a word, God's country.

And now that a war has come, eight or ten thousand miles away, it seems inconceivable that it should be necessary for a nation of such boundless resources, of such wondrous wealth and such varied and thriving industries and commercial interests, to ask its citizenry without regard to wealth or station to contribute to the support of the armies it must send so far afield.

America, like its people, has been prodigal of its riches. Probably the less said of the past extravagances of national government the better. You are largely responsible, for you have seen the acts of your representatives at Washington without a protest.

But the fact is that of the more than a billion dollars of annual revenues nothing has been saved. No surplus has accumulated in the treasury. And the rainy day has come for the nation as it comes for its individuals.

Now, we need $20,000,000,000 for the first year of the war. It will go for loans to our allies; for the equipping of the navy and the arming of land forces; for munitions of war and big and little guns; for army and navy pay; for the purchase and forwarding of the tremendous food supplies necessary for the army support and for army insurance to support stricken families.

Meantime our normal sources of revenue are interrupted and our expenses of government increased. We must have about $19,500,000,000 ready cash this year than last.

And the size of your Liberty Bond purchase will measure your real worth to your country as a citizen.

THE EMBARGO LIFTED

The rise in the Monongahela river following the warm and moderating weather of the past week, has served to lift the embargo which held the stream in its clutches for a period of almost six weeks. Navigation on the lower pools has been resumed, and boats are busy with tows of coal and empty barges on the way up and down the river, carrying fuel supplies to industries which are badly in need of coal.

The closing of the Monongahela by reason of ice was mainly responsible for the fuel shortage from which Pittsburg and vicinity suffered during the recent cold spell and the closing of this avenue of supply was keenly felt. It served to again emphasize the importance of the Monongahela as a freight carrier, without which Pittsburg and her numerous industries would be impotent.

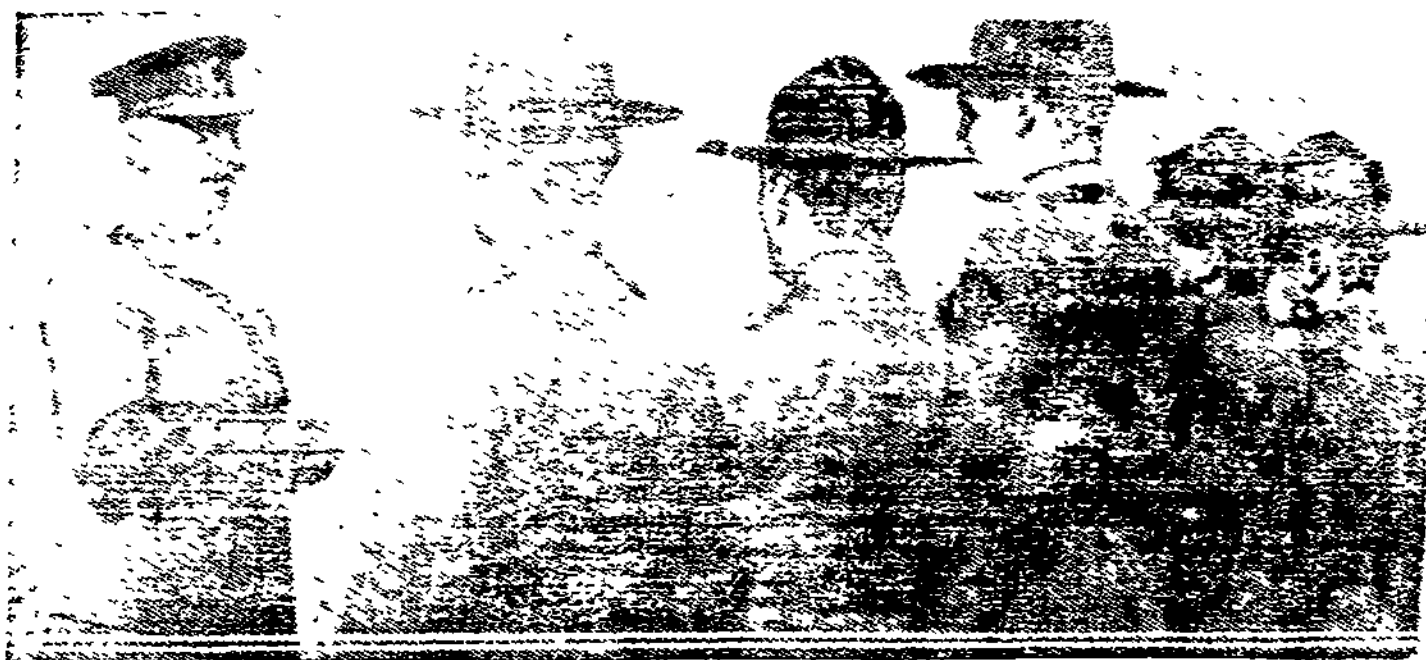

When it is taken into consideration that one big industry alone takes the equal of about 500 loaded cars every 24 hours, it will be seen that the magnitude of the coal business on this stream is something wonderful. During 1917 a total of over 224,000,000 bushels of coal were transported over this route, the equivalent of almost nine millions of tons, an amount that it would be impossible for the railroads to handle in addition to their already heavy tonnage. These shipment will grow year by year, until eventually the goal for which the government is reaching twenty millions of tons yearly, will be reached.

The Monongahela is a mighty factor in the prosperity of the Pittsburg district and the Monongahela valley. The trouble is, we do not appreciate it at its true value.

TIME FOR ACTION

A constitutional amendment requiring all persons who vote for members of Congress and presidential electors to be American citizens was introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Kenyon, of Iowa on Friday.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT STAMPS O. K. ON OUR SAMMIES AND PASSES ENCOURAGING WORDS AS TROOPS MOVE TO FIRST LINE TRENCHES

American troops are now fighting shoulder to shoulder with French and British and are defending a big sector of first-line trenches in France. Here is the latest picture from the American camp in France, showing the Duke of Connaught conversing with Sammie officers just before they lead our boys to the front line. The former governor general of Canada, in a recent tour of inspection of the American camps and troops, expressed a keen appreciation of the types and quality of our warriors.

There are seven states in the Union in which aliens are permitted to vote. All of them western and middle western states.

There are thousands of such voters, who have been given the privilege of voting for Congressmen and for presidential electors, without the formality of securing citizenship papers. Our present war with Germany has brought this pernicious practice very much in the limelight, citizens of other countries, who owe no allegiance to the United States, helping to elect the men who make the laws of the country.

No wonder there is amazement at such a condition of affairs, and that Congressional action is contemplated. Such a system should be invited to return whence he came. We have been too lax in our restrictions along certain lines, but there is no time better than the present to have them rectified. The constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Kenyon should pass and become a part of our fundamental law.

Spring Typhoid.

The news of the loss of our transport reminds us of the way in which we are to be robbed of our peace during this war and should awaken us, who remain at home, to the necessity of guarding our lives and protecting ourselves against disasters no less dangerous. From now on typhoid must be carefully watched as an enemy.

Old Winter has stored the filth of the season on our hillsides and along the banks of our streams. With the melting of the snow and ice in the Spring, all of this filth will be washed into the streams and carried to our water works. This will test the filter plants to their capacities, many of which have too small a margin to care for an excessive flow of filth. Breakdowns will occur and the people must be prepared to protect themselves by boiling water for domestic purposes upon the first indication of trouble with their local water supplies. In view of the above, the question ought to arise in the peoples' minds, with all the money that is being spent in the beautifying of our cities, whether or not it would not be wiser to use this money for the enlarging and improving of the purification plants so that our waters may be safe and wait a little longer for our boulevards and parkways. We certainly must have all known ways and where possible, devise new ones, to protect the health of the young population and to conserve what we now have from unnecessary destruction.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WELL KNOWN MAN

William Park Boyd, chief engineer of Lock No. 5, died suddenly at Fredericktown Saturday night. Mr. Boyd made his home with his brother, J. F. Boyd at that place. He had been in poor health for some time, and Saturday night his brother called him and told him of the high water. He raised up in bed and dropped back again dead. It is thought that excitement was the cause of his death. Mr. Boyd as one of the best known men employed in the government service along the river. He had been engineer at Lock No. 5 for the past 20 years. When the new lock was built he was foreman of the carpenters employed on its construction. He was well known at Lock Four, where he was at one time employed as a carpenter.

He was born in Fredericktown May 20, 1860 and was one of seven children of whom J. F. Boyd is the sole survivor. Mr. Boyd was a member of the Masonic fraternity, having connections in Monongahela and Pittsburg and of the Elks of Charleroi. The funeral will be in charge of the Knights Templar of Charleroi.

P. R. R. FIRE SYSTEM IS VERY EFFECTIVE

Promptness on the part of employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad System in extinguishing fires before the arrival of the public fire companies last year, saved $10,445,196 worth of Company property from destruction. Altogether 334 fires were put out by employees. These occurred on property valued at $10,457,774, but the total loss sustained was only $12,575. These facts are shown in the annual report of the Company's Insurance Department for 1917, which has just been compiled.

The total fire loss of the Pennsylvania Railroad System in 1917, including those cases in which the public fire companies responded, was $1,064,655. This was incurred on properties having a total scheduled valuation for insurance purposes, of $256,089,470, showing the very low loss ratio of 8 1-2 for each $100 of value at risk.

Last year's fires record of the Pennsylvania Railroad System illustrates clearly the value of thoroughly training employees in fire fighting methods, of organizing fire brigades, and of providing modern fire extinguishing apparatus at many points. The regularly organized fire brigades extinguished altogether 66 fires which occurred on property having a total value of $6,310,574. The entire loss sustained was $3,867, or less than $59 per fire. Chemical extinguishers checked 30 fires, resulting in a total loss of $630, on property worth $197,156. Fire pails were used 53 times to extinguish fires on property worth $664,622, at a loss of $1,292. Locomotive fire apparatus was used in 19 fires in which the combined loss was $1,176, the property threatened being valued at $332,420. Water casks and fire pails extinguished 23 fires with a total loss of $300, on property worth $290,167.

Fire hose was used 18 times, extinguishing fires on property valued at $693,613, at a loss of $1,698. The high pressure fire lines put out 8 fires at a loss of $108, the property endangered being worth $318,892. Chemical engines proved their value in 4 fires by keeping down the total loss of $630, on property worth $942,640. Sand pails, extinguishers and tug boats were utilized in putting out other fires.

By following the general instructions given in fire fighting methods, employees of the Company, without the aid of apparatus, extinguished 107 fires at a total loss of $2,064 on property $355,590.

Fifty-one fires occurring on the property of the Pennsylvania Railroad System last year were due to causes wholly beyond the control of the Company or the employees. Adjacent property burning caused 25 fires; adjacent rubbish caused two; boys were responsible for two; incendiaries for three; lightning for three; tramps for three; a tornado for one, and spontaneous ignition for 13.

Prof. T. L. Pollock left at noon today for Scottsdale, to attend the funeral of a relative in that town Tuesday morning.

Tragedy of Childhood.

Nothing is more despicable than to deceive a child in any way. Their plastic young minds receive and hold impressions that we can never eradicate, try we ever so hard. In spite of all the growups can say the little ones never feel the same love and respect for those who have deceived them. Even careless farming may leave the scar which nothing can quite eradicate. Do not break a promise to a child, and do not lie to it, even in fun, for the great tragedy of childhood is to lose faith.

Losses in Battle.

In the campaign in Italy in 1859 rifles were used on both sides, and the proportion of casualties to combatants was at Magenta and Solferino one-eleventh. In the Franco-Prussian war, when both sides were armed with breech-loading rifles, the average proportion of killed and wounded at Worth, Spicheren, Mars-la-Tour, Gravelotte, and Sedan was one-ninth, the heaviest loss being at Mars-la-Tour, where it was one-sixth, and the smallest at Sedan, where it was one-twelfth.

All-Conquering Energy.

Burton says: "The longer I live, the more I am certain that the great difference between men—between the feeble and the powerful, the great and the insignificant—is energy, invincible determination—a purpose, once fixed, and then death or victory! That quality will do anything that can be done in the world; and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities, will make a two-legged creature a man without it."

Onions.

Even now few people perfectly realize the beneficial effect that this vegetable has on the system, and it is too often ignored on account of its pungency of flavor and smell. A well-boiled Spanish onion will induce sleep when most other things fail, and on this account alone it should frequently form a supply dish for the brain-weary man or woman of business.

Definition of a Gentleman.

A man that is clean inside and out, who neither looks up to the rich nor down on the poor; who can lose without squealing, and can win without bragging; who is considerate of women, children and old people; who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat, and lets other people have their—Exchange.

Habsburg or Hapsburg?

Habsburg, as it is spelled in the original German, the name being derived from the castle of Habsburg, or Habichtsburg (Hawk's Castle), on the bank of the Aar, in the Swiss Canton of Aargau. In this way it is also spelled in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, but in this country it is generally spelled with a "p."

Had Mania for Horse Hair.

Pulling hairs from the tails of horses was the charge against a man in London the other day. He was charged with having stolen four and a quarter pounds of horse hair from a livery company, and the claim was that he had deliberately pulled this out of the tails of the company's horses. Found guilty, the man was fined $25.

Suffers in Silence.

The average millionaire knows how unpopular it is to be rich, but he goes right along and endures the painful responsibilities of wealth, suffering the scorn and calumny of a cruel world in silence, and awaits his vindication beyond the grave.—Houston Post.

Ever Notice?

'Tis love that makes the world go round. The days you quarrel with your sweetheart everything comes to a stop.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Just Pass It On.

Inquisitive people are the funnels of conversation; they do not take in anything for their own use, but merely to pass it to another.—Steels.

Bulgarian BLOOD TONIC

Wards Off That Deadly Scourge—Pneumonia

Bulgarian Blood Tonic, taken steaming hot at bed time, will kill that cold which craves pneumonia. This dreaded disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks young and old alike—rich and poor—men, women and children.

Bulgarian Blood Tonic, the old-fashioned "mother earth" remedy which has made the Bulgarian nation the healthiest in the world, eliminates body poisons, and keeps stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder and blood in a fine healthy condition. THE RESULT IS THIS—where pneumonia and winter colds would otherwise get a firm hold, Bulgarian Blood Tonic gives quick relief by building up the run-down organs.

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing would do me any good. My doctor, Dr. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. ANNA METTERIANO, 36 West 10th St., Peru, Ind.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous rest and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Has Great Specific Gravity.

Mercury has the greatest specific gravity of all liquids, but recently another has been discovered which is also so heavy that stones of all kinds—granite, limestone, quartz, etc., float in it. It is a saturated aqueous solution of tung stannate. Its specific gravity is 3.3 whereas that of ordinary rock does not exceed 2.7. Only a few precious stones have a specific gravity greater than that of this liquid for which reason it is proposed to employ it for the separation of such stones from masses of broken rock.

Names That Signify Nothing.

Really, what is a name? It is a little known in Ireland; Roman candles did not originate in Rome; what is known in baseball parlance as a "Texas League" happens in as many games played outside of the Texas league as those played in it; the Irish dairy is in reality a dandelion; Netherlands don't make it a custom to pay for their own refreshments while eating and drinking with friends, and thereby make constant what is known as a "Dutch Treat." And so on, for infinite examples.

Taking Oil Stains From Concrete.

It has been found that oil stains on concrete floors may be removed by using a mixture of one pound of oxalic acid in three gallons of water, with enough wheat flour added to make a paste that can be applied with a brush. Allow the application to remain for two days, and then remove it with clean water and a scrubbing brush. A second application may be necessary in stubborn cases.

Thought He Was "Kidding."

One day a Dublin grave digger working very hard broke his spade. He sent his little son for a new one and told him to tell the shopkeeper he would pay him when he was finished. When the boy came back empty-handed, his father asked him why he did not bring the spade. "Because," said the boy, "he chased me away when I told him you would pay him when you came out of the grave."

Opportunities.

The reason opportunities are neither recognized nor embraced lies in the composition of the tissues, the flesh, and the blood called man. One man perceives one kind, his blood brother sees a lesser or many better ones. John pushes through the habits he acquires all too early; James overcomes the temperance and his nine brothers partly inherited.

Using Water as a Weight.

A pint of water, or of wheat, sugar, or butter weighs about one pound and may safely be used as a basis for weights and measures. This knowledge is often valuable to the farmer who keeps seed wheat on hand, for it may be made to weigh, by balance, all other farm products.

Keep Smiling.

Best advice of all is contained in the last words of the chorus of a popular song: "Smile—smile—smile!" However, you must smile from the heart, not merely twitching facial muscles mechanically, but flashing a message of friendliness and joy from the heart.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Cross of St. Andrew.

The Cross of St. Andrew is white satin on blue ground, to represent the cross on which the Scottish patron saint suffered martyrdom. It is combined with crosses of St. George and St. Patrick in the Union Jack of Great Britain.

Mending Umbrellas.

When the handle comes off an umbrella—one of the kind with steel rods—clean out the holes and fill it with powdered sulphur. Heat the end of the rod red-hot and push it down into the sulphur. This will fuse the sulphur and cement the rod in place.

Turkish Language Easy.

The Turkish language, although spoken in many dialects, is so uniform in plan that anyone who speaks Ottoman Turkish can be understood while traveling from European Turkey through Asia Minor and Central Asia.

Changing Color of Flowers.

Many pink flowers may be turned blue by exposing them to the fumes of ammonia for a few minutes, and blue flowers become pink when exposed to acids.

The Way of Investigations.

Very few investigations hold up in a way that makes them as interesting at the finish as they were at the start.

Wonderfully Acute Faculties.

The keenest hearing is that of the vaudeville artist, who frequently answers the encore before it starts.—Kansas City Star.

Self-Centered.

It isn't wholly because of a chilly reception that some people are all wrapped up in themselves.—Philadelphia Record.

Honey and Syrup.

Honey and syrup instead of sugar will make victory just as sweet—and bring it much sooner.

DAY OF WASTE IS ENDED

Every Sort of Refuse Now Being Made Use Of in Some Way in Britain.

How to avoid waste is to be one of the lessons of the economy campaign, and at the ministry of food plans are being elaborated. In one department the visitor may see samples of oils from fish-waste, porash from banana-skins, fats from slaughter-house refuse, dried house-waste for pig and poultry food, fish meal and grit for poultry from unsound fish, metals from old tins and scraps, and disinfectant powder from fine-dust.

A provincial mayor has collected a box of tin foil saved from a year's buttonholes, to be converted into tin. Liverpool has plant for extracting poultry and pig foods, as well as fertilizers, from waste.

Sheffield and Nottingham specialize in getting iron out of unconsidered trifles, and Nottingham has also during the present year recovered 400 tons of manure from refuse.

Glasgow is systematically salvaging the by-products of waste. Other towns are introducing "digesters," the type of machine in which a dead horse can be tipped, with the result that fats and oils are secured, in addition to dried and prepared animal foods.

It is reckoned that the metals found in dustbins total one ton per 1,000 of the population per annum and that annually 250,000 tons of paper are wasted.

Nearly everything thrown into the dustbin has a commercial or chemical value. Not a scrap of metal should be cast aside, but all should be sold in ordinary trade channels or handed to any collecting organization which may be operating in a district.—London Tit-Bits.

EX-KING DOES USEFUL WORK

Mmanuel of Portugal Now Director of School for the Re-education of Maimed Soldiers.

Royalty has suffered much in the present war, even at the hands of its friends. When the international conference in the interest of permanently disabled soldiers was concluded in Paris, a party of delegates journeyed to England to inspect the great schools established there for the re-education of men maimed in battle. One of these schools in particular excited the visitors' admiration because of its marvelous equipment and seemingly perfect management. This was all the more remarkable because the director of the school was a very young man. So much impressed were the visitors that before leaving they waited upon the youthful director and fairly showered him with praise.

"It is both a great responsibility and a high honor to you, sir," said their spokesman, a distinguished French scientist, "to have been placed at your age at the head of so important a school."

"I agree with you, Doctor," but in times past I have had occasion to direct matters even more important than these," replied the young man, who was none other than the ex-King Mmanuel of Portugal.

Congress of Polish Technicians.

The Polish engineers and technicians now residing in Russia held a congress at Moscow recently, at which 285 persons were present. The program consisted of general discussions concerning the rehabilitation and development of industry in Poland after the war, also the organization of technical education. Special sections dealt with architecture, mechanics, chemistry, electricity, and economics.

It was decided to found a Polish association of engineers and technicians in Russia, with branches in the principal industrial centers, and also to undertake the publication of a bi-weekly sheet that should become the organ of the society. Among the resolutions adopted was one relating to the future economic development of Poland.

New Hotel for Lima, Peru.

The Congress of Peru by recent legislation has provided for an up to date hotel in Lima, to be constructed under the supervision of the national government of Peru and to cost not less than $200,000 ($78,000). The site set aside for the hotel is government property located in the heart of the city and is to be acquired by the company constructing the hotel.

The need of a modern hotel in Lima has been keenly felt by the travelers for some time, says Commerce Reports. During recent years the number of commercial travelers and tourists visiting the west coast of South America has more than doubled, and many of these have found it inconvenient or even impossible to remain longer than a few days in Lima because of the lack of adequate hotel accommodations.

A Good Day's Work.

"Besides stringing 53,892 beans yesterday (to get on the good side of the cook) I loaded 2,295 pounds of automobiles on to vans," writes a young soldier from Edmonton, who has only recently "got across." "Those were the exact figures for my share. Twenty of us were got together yesterday and started loading cases of automobiles onto trucks. Each case weighed 1,700 pounds, and we got 27 on altogether, which took nine hours of hard labor ('hard' is no name for it). The total weight loaded, you will see, was 46,900 pounds, which makes my share, as I said before, I tugged and heaved for all I was worth, and I haven't a sore muscle today, so you see I am in pretty good condition."

California Efficiency.

There is an efficiency man in San Diego who carries his profession to excess. He has a girl who lives in Los Angeles. He visits her every Sunday and writes every day. For want of a new topic the girl asked him in a recent communication if he really did like her eyes. In reply the e. m. replied: "Replying to your inquiry of even date, beg to refer you to my letter, February 24, 1917, wherein the subject was treated exhaustively."—San Diego Union.

Minute by Minute.

If you had tomorrow's work along with the work of today, of course you would find it too hard for you. But this is just what you are doing when you worry over what is going to happen. No day has so many hard things that we cannot bear them, but we never have strength enough at any one time to bear the worries of several days together. Live minute by minute if you would be equal to all that comes.

Why Men Stagnate.

Most men, through set habits and lack of the practice called adaptability, agility, skill, and quick perceptions, are like flies and mosquitoes. That is to say, they seldom go more than a few hundred yards from their homes or occupations. They do not cast off the anchors of their lifelong and hereditary anchorage. The inequalities are in them, not in the opportunities.

Potash From Dust.

It has been discovered that large quantities of the dust that accumulates in certain portions of the apparatus used in making pig iron from iron ores—that is, in the blast furnaces—contains appreciable quantities of potash. The amount found depends on the kind of ore used in the blast furnace charge.

Height of Clouds Varies.

Thunderstorm clouds are very variable in height—from 500 to 2,000 feet. The clouds in thunderstorms may be very deep—from two to five miles and more—hence the appearance as to distance is very deceptive. Cumulus clouds are intermediate, and generally occupy a position from 2,000 to 5,000 feet above the earth.

Tortoises and Water.

Tortoises in tropical islands require much fresh water for drinking and have often discovered springs of which the human inhabitants were ignorant. When such a fountain is found the whole surrounding district is soon covered by "tortoise roads" made by these large creatures in their journeys to and from the water.

Wooden-Soled Shoes.

Wood is being used for shoe soles in some places. California redwood is used, because it is very light, and with tops made of the best obtainable leather, the whole shoe is lighter than most all-leather shoes. But, best of all, these shoes are really waterproof, if the uppers are greased.

Windmill Palm a Freak.

The hardest palm at all common is California's Trachycarpus excelsus, known as the windmill palm. Not alone is it hardy in withstanding low temperatures, but it is tough and will endure rough treatment, but boxed it is not a success.

Without Oil.

A tactless man is, in the running of his affairs, like an engineer who runs his locomotive without oil, whether it is through ignorance or just to show what can be done. Both men come to grief before they have gone very far.

Wood Growth.

Wood grows lengthwise but once, during the first year. After that it continues to grow in thickness each year of its life, but the length growth is each year extended only by new twigs.

Billiard Balls.

Billiard balls are turned in the rough and kept in a warm room, sometimes as long as two years. Then, after shrinking, they are turned again.

New Flash-Lamp.

A practicable flash-lamp without a battery has been invented by utilizing a tiny magneto-generator driven by a spring and clockwork.

Ambitious.

Mrs. Microbe (on a $10 bill)—Climbers! They actually started on a bad penny and have climbed to the fringe of real society.

Speaking and Thinking.

Mrs. Peck—"I always think twice before I speak once." Peck—"Exactly, my dear—but then you are such a quick thinker."

Great Britain's Inland Waterways. Taking the canals of England and Wales altogether, there are 2,377 locks for 3,800 miles of waterways.

Avoid Neglect of Duty.

A great many things contribute to make life a success, but you can spoil it simply by neglect.

The most valuable coin authorized in the United States is the double Eagle, worth $20.00. But there was formerly struck in California what was called an "octagon" because of its shape, and it passed for $50. It was current elsewhere, but never legal tender.

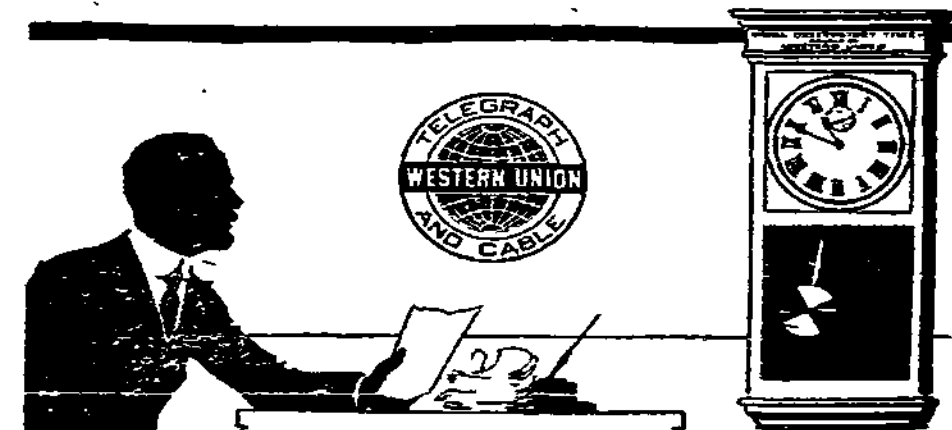

The human intestine seems to be largely useless in this modern day and age. The uselessness of the vermiform appendix, which is simply the stump of what was once an important and functioning branch of the alimentary canal, is well known. Recent operations in a London hospital seem to indicate that a large part of the lower main canal, the colon, can be dispensed with without harm. In these operations sections of the colon have been removed. The work brings up again the famous scientist Metchnikoff's debated contention that these parts of the anatomy are not only useless but dangerous.

NEW PASTOR FOR

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

At a meeting of the congregation of the First Christian church held Sunday morning, a unanimous call was extended to the Rev. C. A. Hufford of Perryopolis. Mr. Hufford, 31 accept the call and was present Sunday evening and spoke at the services. The new pastor is a graduate of Bethany College and for the past three and one-half years has been in charge of the work at Perryopolis, where he has met with much success. Previous to his pastorate at Perryopolis he was located at Chester, W. Va. With his family he will move to Charleroi as soon as he can secure a suitable house, as he wishes to take up his new duties here as soon as possible.

BURNED TO DEATH

IN CLARKSVILLE BLAZE

Fire in the office of the Clarksville Gas Coal company at Clarksville Saturday night destroyed the office building and burned L. E. Slattery to death. All papers and records of the company stored in the office were destroyed. Slattery was formerly a Pittsburgh fireman in which city his wife and sister live. He was aged 25 years. The Clarksville Gas Coal company is owned principally by Charleroi capitalists.

TRAFFIC HELD UP

BY A LANDSLIDE

A big landslide on the Monongahela Railway this morning about 6:30 near Martin, tied up traffic between Brownsville and Fairmont for several hours. Work trains from Fairmont and Brownsville were summoned to the scene and cleared away the debris and traffic was resumed as usual.

W. M. Darby went to Brownsville this afternoon and from there will go to Rush Run at the Alicia mine to take a look at the big gorge in the fifth pool. For six years Mr. Darby was in charge of the big 1300-acre farm of Capt. Sam Brown at that place and is familiar with all the surroundings.

CHARLEROI WINS

BY A BIG SCORE

Last Saturday afternoon the Girls' basketball team of the Charleroi high school were, for the second time this season, defeated by one point. Their successful opponent this time was the California Normal School, 12 to 11. The game was a close one all the way, the score being tied several times. Charleroi led the scoring most of the time, but California finished stronger and landed sufficient points to win the contest. On the end of February the Girls' team was defeated by West Newton High School, the score being 10 to 9. The lineup and score of the Saturday game was:
Charleroi—11
Provins F
Winer F
Ryland C
Tiersol G
Gaber G
Substitutions—Styche for Simmons, Field goals—Ryland 2, Hamilton, McNulty, Foul goals, Provins 7 out of 11; Hamilton 3 out of 8; Robinson 5 out of 9. Referee, Smith. Time keeper, Stroud. Scorer, Grimm.

DEAD BABE FOUND

IN THE MONONGAHELA

The body of a male child was found in the Monongahela river at Monongahela this morning and removed to the Frye morgue. Where the child came from is not known and the authorities are making an investigation.

THE FISH BOAT

The steamer Alicia, reported as slowly sinking, is in harbor and in good shape, and in no immediate danger of damage. The ice is holding fast, and rivermen are of the opinion that the warm weather will eventually rot it sufficiently to allow it to pass out without damage. The river is falling in the upper end of the river, there being a decrease of eight feet at Millboro. No additional stages are looked for at this time, and no attempt will be made to dynamite the gorge. There will be no river activity until the ice has been cleared away, which will not likely be very long if we have moderating weather.

COMMANDMENTS IN THE COURT HOUSE

The National Reform Association. Similar copies have been furnished to other courts and to school houses throughout the state. The court had planned to have the copies framed, but the commissioners, learning what was being done, arranged that the county bear the expenses. It is said a Pittsburgh woman is furnishing funds for these copies of the commandments and that the funds are being provided for having them done in a bronze tablet and put in a suitable place in the temple of justice.
